They don't include auto-playing audio either, they really won't spoil your enjoyment of the site.. 'Why are you doing this?' - Frankly we're struggling to make ends meet here especially since the site got more popular.

Please, don't punish us because of them, in the seven or so years I've been a blogger/webmaster I've ALWAYS considered the need to balance monetisation with reader experience.. Another fact - We have the software and the power to completely block adblock users from our site, but we're not going to, at least for now.. If it wasn't for ads, the internet would lose a whole chunk of really great niche content like this, which would be a real shame in our opinion.
